Dear Professor Lederberg,

Many thanks for your letter of July 27th.

Dr. F. Ørskov will come back from his holidays in a few days; I will forward him your letter, and I think he will be able to send the strains.

I do agree with you that solid media are essential for the differentiation between slow and mutative fermentation; I hope this is also evident from my former publications; in the last one I have not repeated the details of the general technique.

Your sincerely

Martin Kristensen
